Farm or production practices/classifications:

*Please indicate clearly what labels you would put on your food and if you have third party certification for this claim. e.g. Organic, Natural, Pesticide free etc.

Notes:

- Co-op regulation require that producer members are selling their own product. Both primary producers (farmers) and secondary producers (e.g. bakers) are expected to have produced 100% of the products they are selling through the co-op.
- The co-op thrives on diversity and balancing customer demand with producer supply. Producers may be placed on a waiting list until the co-op grows customer demand to a size able to take on more producers.
- The co-op is built on the support and participation of it's membership. Members are expected to attend the annual AGM and lend help and support when necessary and possible.
